The Moore-McCandlish House

© Pawinee McEntire

Built in 1842, the Moore-McCandlish House has seen a great deal of history pass through its hallowed halls, including two Presidents and a war.

In 1855, the property was purchased by Thomas Murray. He was later sent to prison after being accused of housing Confederate Colonel Mosby as he plotted to capture Union General Stoughton. Murray died during his stay in prison and was temporarily buried on the property.

Moore House's subsequent owner and namesake Thomas Moore had a son who went on to become the Assistant Secretary of State for the Roosevelt Administration, later warranting the home a visit from the nation's beloved 32nd President. This, however, was not the house's first Presidential visit. William Howard Taft is rumored to have attended a garden party on the premises sometime after his Presidency.

The house was a family home through the 1980s at which point it was then restored for business use.
